Partnering Together
To Lead The Way
Throughout my years of military service, I have learned to lead the way and be biased toward action. In 2021, America’s Warrior Partnership grew to meet the needs of our communities, veterans, and their families. Over the last year, we have acted by continuing to build and learn from the pandemic and how it impacts our communities and country.

Despite the pandemic, we continued to build hope among veterans and their families as we battled to improve their quality of life by partnering with communities and organizations both locally and nationally. 2021 continued to have uncertainties for our veterans and their families, wondering if we continue in lockdown, navigating the vaccination landscape, watching the withdrawal from Afghanistan, and many more events.

America’s Warrior Partnership’s Community Integration model continued to drive our work. We now have five Community Branches and four Community Affiliates, broadening our community reach and impact. We continue to prove that our community model is easily adopted and tremendously impactful. Our approach to Connect, Educate, Advocate and Collaborate builds strong relationships with the veterans and their communities. Community Integration is proving to be less of a program and more of a movement by providing much-needed services for the few and a purpose for the majority of veterans who are excelling in life.

America’s Warrior Partnership Network, powered by our proprietary technology platform WarriorServe®, continues to lead the way for more veterans to find assistance in remote and tribal areas or where local communities’ resources have been exhausted. It’s a robust network to find our veterans the assistance they need to improve their quality of life and hope. The Network has increased its community leader relationships from 440 counties to over 782 counties, representing 50 states and territories in over 2,200 veterans’ issues with a 93% success rate.

Operation Deep Dive is America’s Warrior Partnership’s Research Initiative that leads the way to develop community-based prevention measures by clarifying the actual number of veteran suicides and identifying risk factors associated with suicide among veterans. For the first time, Operation Deep Dive has correlated the impact of military service, duration, and time since discharge to the service member’s natural or non-natural causes of death. We’ve discovered through our efforts that veterans’ deaths has been grossly undercounted at the county and state level. This error has bubbled up to the national level leading us to believe the problem of veteran suicide and accidental overdose is far worse than reported.

We know that suicide prevention is a one-size-fits-one size approach, regardless of the community, county, state, or national level. We will continue this study and report our key findings in 2022. We’ve discovered through our efforts that veterans’ deaths has been grossly undercounted at the county and state level. This error has bubbled up to the national level leading us to believe the problem of veteran suicide and accidental overdose is far worse than reported.

In the end, America’s Warrior Partnership continues to lead the way in all that we do. We will always act to improve veteran quality of life to prevent suicide across our nation. This past year we have made significant strides to grow our reach into communities and connect with more veterans. We will continue this path to support all of our nation’s veterans, regardless of the era served. Know that America’s Warrior Partnership is here for you and your family.

Sincerely,

Jim Lorraine

Mission & Model

Partnering With Communities To Prevent Veteran Suicide.

National

The Network continues to bridge the gap between national resources and local communities to ensure our veterans, family members and caregivers’ unique needs are met. We are leading the way in ending veteran suicide through our multi-year study, Operation Deep Dive™.

Local

We build relationships with veterans, their families, caregivers and the communities in which they live. The Community Integration model is an upstream approach to improve the quality of life of a veteran through a one-size-fits-one approach, therefore reducing veteran suicide. It is a Four Step Plan: Connect, Educate, Advocate, and Collaborate.

Connect — Proactively building a trusted relationship with veterans and connecting them to available resources or connecting communities with the tools and insights they need to support veterans.

Educate — Informing veterans of the opportunities available to them, as well as educating the community as a whole about the needs of veterans and their value to the community.

Advocate — Raising awareness on behalf of veterans, their families and caregivers to ensure they receive the opportunity and support they need and to advocate for communities’ commitment to supporting veterans.

Collaborate — Working together with veterans to create a holistic plan and collaborate with all offerings from the local community to regional, state and national resources to ensure the success of the veterans within the community.
Spotlight on Advocacy

America’s Warrior Partnership participated in numerous advocacy activities to represent the interests of our veterans and communities.

- Testified before Congress on mental health and suicide prevention.
- Worked closely with Senate Veterans Affairs Committee on veterans access to care, and provided technical input to legislation on the issue.
- Routinely met with House and Senate members, including responding to requests for updates and briefings, and dozens of meetings of senior staffers on the Hill.
- Met with high-level VA officials on several occasions, including with the VA Secretary and VA Chief of Staff.
- Conducted 7 Congressional interviews and over two dozen polls on important veterans policy.

Operation Deep Dive™ (OpDD) is a community-based, veteran/former service member (FSM) suicide prevention study in partnership with the University of Alabama. It started in 2017 with funding from the Bristol Myers Squibb Foundation and continues today. The goal is to use the research to develop a system to identify risk factors associated with suicide among FSMs at the community level. Then, to inform upstream suicide prevention strategies and enhance programs that aim to reduce risk factors and holistically improve FSMs’ quality of life.

DATA TYPES:

Retrospective Data
This quantitative data is death data we are requesting from every state in the US to perform a comprehensive analysis of FSMs who died by suicide or self injury mortality from 2014 to present.

Prospective Data
This qualitative data uses the sociocultural death investigation (SDI) tool to interview the relatives, friends or colleagues of FSMs who died by suicide. The goal of the SDI interview is to examine how they were engaged in their communities, identify factors that may have impacted their quality of life and contributed to them dying by suicide.

Data Collection Challenges:
- States have unique death data collection- restrictive regulations & costs
- Some individuals did not meet the criteria to participate in the SDI Interview
- Interviews must be on a volunteer basis and cannot directly be solicited

Milestones
- State Death Data: To date, we have acquired death data from eight states: Alabama, Florida, Massachusetts, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana & Oregon.
- Total # of SDI Interviews & Cases: To date, we have conducted 42 SDI interviews across 27 FSM cases.
- Have 643 partners subscribed to the platform to receive monthly updates about Operation Deep Dive™.

Here’s what we have planned for 2022:
- Expand state death data collection scope to include more states
- Continue collaboration with the Department of Defense for FSM data verification
- Fine tune best practices for analyzing and disseminating key findings with key stakeholders
- Publish key study findings with our partners across the country
- Promote need for interviews to ensure each FMS’s story is told
